Access Keys

This site does not use access keys because of inconsistent behaviour across platforms.

Accessible Web Design

This site has been developed to ensure content is available to the widest possible audience, including readers using assistive technology or accessibility features. By adhering to guidelines for accessible web design, we acknowledge the diversity of communication methods, available technologies and abilities of web-users in the community.

The LCMA strives to maintain conformance to W3C's Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG).

Standards Compliance

This site meets all the coding criteria for compliance with W3C CSS (cascading style sheets) and HTML 4.01 Transitional.

The text is too small for me to read - how can I change it?

In Internet Explorer go to View > Text size and select Larger or Largest.
In Netscape go to View > Increase Font Size. You could also try changing the screen resolution.
